CONNECTICUT FARM ENERGY PROGRAM (CFEP) IS SUPPORTED IN COLLABORATION WITH CONNECTICUT RESOURCE CONSERVATION & DEVELOPMENT AREA, INC. (RC&D), USDA RURAL DEVELOPMENT, CT DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY & ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION (DEEP), AND US DOE.

CFEP is a clearinghouse of information as it pertains to energy and agriculture in Connecticut.

CFEP serves as a resource of information for farm energy grants, incentives, loans, audits, financing, educational opportunities & events for farms and agriculturally based small businesses.

CFEP provides technical assistance through grant writing to eligible farms and agriculturally based small businesses in applying for USDA Rural Development REAP (Rural Energy for America Program) grants.

CFEP implements on-farm energy efficiency and renewable energy projects for Connecticut farms such as anaerobic digestion and compost heat recovery.
